1. This opinion contains indications relating to the following items:

- ☒ Box No. I Basis of the opinion
- ☐ Box No. II Priority
- ☐ Box No. III Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability
- ☐ Box No. IV Lack of unity of invention
- ☒ Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43bis.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement
- ☐ Box No. VI Certain documents cited
- ☐ Box No. VII Certain defects in the international application
- ☐ Box No. VIII Certain observations on the international application

2. FURTHER ACTION

If a demand for international preliminary examination is made, this opinion will be considered to be a written opinion of the International Preliminary Examining Authority ("IPEA") except that this does not apply where the applicant chooses an Authority other than this one to be the IPEA and the chosen IPEA has notified the International Bureau under Rule 66.1bis(b) that written opinions of this International Searching Authority will not be so considered.

If this opinion is, as provided above, considered to be a written opinion of the IPEA, the applicant is invited to submit to the IPEA a written reply together, where appropriate, with amendments, before the expiration of 3 months from the date of mailing of Form PCT/ISA/220 or before the expiration of 22 months from the priority date, whichever expires later.

For further options, see Form PCT/ISA/220.

Box No. I Basis of this opinion

1. With regard to the language, this opinion has been established on the basis of the international application in the language in which it was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.

This opinion has been established on the basis of a translation from the original language into the following language

_____, which is the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international search (under Rule 12.3 and 23.1(b)).

2. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application and necessary to the claimed invention, this opinion has been established on the basis of:

a. type of material

a sequence listing

table(s) related to the sequence listing

b. format of material

in written format

in computer readable form

c. time of filing/furnishing

contained in the international application as filed.

filed together with the international application in computer readable form.

furnished subsequently to this Authority for the purposes of search.

3. ☒ In addition, in the case that more than one version or copy of a sequence listing and/or table(s) relating thereto has been filed or furnished, the required statements that the information in the subsequent or additional copies is identical to that in the application as filed or does not go beyond the application as filed, as appropriate, were furnished.

Claims 1-15

The inventions described in claims 1-6 and 9-15 do not appear to involve an inventive step in view of documents 1 and 2 cited in the ISR.

Document 1 describes that (1) pyrroloquinolinequinone glucose dehydrogenase derived from Acinetobacter calcoaceticus and (2) cytochrome b562, both of which were chemically bridged each other, were used as a glucose sensor to measure glucose.

Document 2 describes that fused protein obtained by fusion of (1) pyrroloquinolinequinone glucose dehydrogenase derived from Acinetobacter calcoaceticus and (2) a biotin bound portion was used as a glucose sensor to measure glucose.

Regarding claims 1-6, and 9-15, a person skilled in the art could have easily arrived at using fused protein, as described in document 2, in combining (1) pyrroloquinolinequinone glucose dehydrogenase derived from Acinetobacter calcoaceticus and (2) cytochrome b562, both of which are described in document 1.

The inventions described in claims 7-15 do not appear to involve an inventive step in view of documents 1-3 cited in the ISR.

Document 3 describes that cytochrome B562 derived from Comamonas testosteroni has a function as an electron acceptor of pyrroloquinolinequinone glucose dehydrogenase.

Regarding claims 7-15, a person skilled in the art could have easily arrived at using cytochrome B562 derived from Comamonas testosteroni described in document 3, as cytochrome B562.
